

EL SALVADOR

Candidacy for the elections
for the Council of Aviation Organization International Civil (ICAO)

★ ★ ★

Message

At a time when countries face substantial challenges to ensure the safety of civil air operations in the regions, it is important to join efforts to support and facilitate the recovery of transport international air, in compliance with international standards and methods recommended by the International Civil Aviation Organization, so that no country is left behind, changing essential changes worldwide, in the midst of a pandemic crisis that has caused socioeconomic impacts important in all the countries of the world”.

EL SALVADOR

★ ★ ★

Commitment

“The State of El Salvador is committed to seeking measures and mechanisms that support States to guarantee the operational security, capacity and efficiency of air navigation, protection of the environment, safety of aviation and facilitation, through active participation and through working papers submitted for consideration by the Council, taking into account takes into account the opinion of the different countries, through dialogue and negotiation, respecting the diverse cultures of each Member State in the search for solutions”.