

Terms and conditions applicable to the scholarships - attachment 1

1. Overview

In April 2022, the Government of Qatar and ICAO jointly renewed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to jointly administer a scholarship programme called the Qatar-ICAO Developing Countries Scholarship Programme ("DCSP") in order to provide training scholarships for participants to be nominated by and selected from designated non-Arabic speaking ICAO Member States ("Developing Countries").

The Developing Countries to be designated shall generally be countries that are most in need of assistance especially in the area of aviation training.

2. Training Institute

Qatar Aeronautical Academy (QAA) was founded in 1977 as the Civil Aviation College of the Gulf States. QAA is now the Gulf region's leading provider of training for the aviation industry. QAA offers full-time, approved courses for Pilots, Aircraft Maintenance Engineers, Air Traffic Controllers, Meteorologists, Airport Operations Management Personnel and Flight Dispatchers, as well as short courses in a wide variety of aviation-related disciplines.

3. Training content

Courses consist of classroom lectures, simulators, library, Learning Management System, workshops, case studies and on-site visits.

4. Expenses

The QCAA and the QAA will bear the following expenses for successful applicants:

- Transport to and from the scholar's home country. The participants would need to arrive into Qatar one day prior to the commencement of the training programme and depart Qatar one day after the training completion.
- Tuition fees,
- Accommodation for the entire duration of the training programme in Qatar.
- Transportation to site visits (such as hangars) is provided and arranged by the QAA.

QAA is not responsible for the medical insurance of the scholars.
